As a family company, we pass on our values of excellence from one generation to the next, and we have a firm belief in social, environmental and economic sustainability by combining the tradition we have inherited with the constant innovation to lead the future.

Pago Florentino ●

The Vino de Pago is a quality seal of approval that is the highest ranking category which can be granted to any Spanish wine. This is Bodegas Arzuaga's 'Quixote' .

In 1997 Florentino Arzuaga, owner and founder of Bodegas Arzuaga, landed in Castilla-La Mancha attracted by the world of olive oil. In search of new land to plant olive trees, Florentino Arzuaga found the 'La Solana' farm , ideal for planting vineyards in the town of Malagón, Ciudad Real province.

The peculiar location of the 'La Solana' farm on the slopes of a mountain range means that its land is on an ideal hill-side for growing vines. The vineyard floor is full of granite rocks and clay bedding that add a special minerality.

Other Products and Services- This list shows all the products for which C&D Wines are the agents. We import directly from Spain, Chile, and France and have a considerable amount of control over the price and the stockists. It also means that availability is guaranteed since we ship the products ourselves. Normally we would not expect these prices to change during the year unless there is a large increase in price, exchange rate or duty. Besides this, we have what we call our 'Complementary list'. This is for wines which we do not import ourselves. We buy these wines from the official importer and act as distributors for them. Therefore, we have less control over them. These products may not be continuously available and the prices are more liable to change. However, our policy will be to review these prices on a quarterly basis and change those that the importer may have changed during the previous quarter.
