Cava DO

Cava is the most popular sparkling wine produced in Spain using the traditional or Champenoise method with the second fermentation in bottle.

More than 90% of production is centred around Catalonia and chiefly in the town of Sant Sadurní d'Anoia in the Penedès region, although the regulatory board accepts other areas of production such as Aragón, Valencia, La Rioja and Extremadura.

It is now ranked as the second most popular sparkling wine in the world.

JUVE & CAMPS

A centuries-long history, with strong ties to the land, the Penedès. Four generations of a family devoted, body and soul, to winemaking, dedicated to creating premium cava, their philosophy is based in Organic growing, Manual harvesting and being the Pioneers of the Gran Reserva.

CASTELL D'OR

Flama d'Or is a cava inspired by two of the Castell d'Or Group's fundamental principles: cherishing the vineyards and respecting the land in the cava-making process. It is also inspired by the elegance and finesse of the various grape varieties that go into its blend. The new label makes a feature of the vine, which springs from the earth like a flame and will give birth to grapes of various varieties which, when blended together, will result in unique wines and cavas.

BODEGAS MUGA RIOJA ALTA

Wines that are born from inspiration and authenticity. Muga always uses the finest materials and are open to new techniques that provide greater quality without losing authenticity. To produce each of our wines, we continue opting for traditional procedures. Through the natural process of fining, we eliminate the suspended particles that appear in the wine. We carry out the decanting by the traditional method of gravity. We are the only cellar in Spain with a master cooper and three in-house barrel-makers.

Ribera del Duero DO

One of Spain's top red wine-producing regions, Ribera del Duero is located in the northwest of the country, about two hours north of Madrid. Ribera del Duero runs from the east of Aranda del Duero westward to Valladolid. Its name translates as riverbanks of the Duero.

In fact, the region's vineyards flank the Duero River to the north and south, stretching up to the limestone cliffs where the valley intersects with the Meseta Central, a plateau that rises between 700 and 1,000 meters above sea level and varies in width and depth throughout the valley.

BODEGAS VOLVER

Our most prized asset is our heritage of vines between 30 and 90 years old, indigenous varieties cultivated in a sustainable way with minimal intervention. The pillars of the bodega are based on the repositioning of quality Spanish wines and recovering old indigenous vineyards which, either through low production or lack of generational succession, had been lost.

Other Products and Services - This list shows all the products for which CD Wines are the agents. We import directly from Spain, Chile, and France and have a considerable amount of control over the price and the stockists. It also means that availability is guaranteed since we ship the products ourselves. Normally we would not expect these prices to change during the year unless there is a large increase in price, exchange rate or duty. Besides this, we have what we call our 'Complementary list'. This is for wines which we do not import ourselves. We buy these wines from the official importer and act as distributors for them. Therefore, we have less control over them. These products may not be continuously available and the prices are more liable to change. However, our policy will be to review these prices on a quarterly basis and change those that the importer may have changed during the previous quarter.
